

WHY NANNIES NEED AGENCIES

...not online sites

SAFETY

Going online to find nanny jobs can be incredibly risky. Do you really know who is behind the computer screen? Agencies work closely with families to ensure you'll be working in a safe environment.

SALARY

Established and reputable agencies have access to the best local job opportunities and can connect you. Nannies who work with an agency typically secure jobs with better salaries and benefits.

STAND OUT

In a sea of self-identified nannies, set yourself apart. An agency's stamp of approval means something. Work with an agency is one way to show you're a true childcare professional.

SUPPORT

Agencies act as advocates for the nannies they serve, offering expert advice and professional resources. Working with an agency means you'll never have to go it alone.

SATISFACTION

Agencies connect families to compatible nannies to ensure a "good fit." This extra effort means greater job satisfaction and longevity.

SECURITY

Many agencies hold liability insurance policies that offer you added legal protection. They also encourage families to provide a written work agreement.
